AT&T To Build Own Satellites

Agreement Signed With NASA To Build Vehicles

WASHINGTON (A) - A cooperative agreement for development and testing communications satellites next year was announced today.

The agreement was signed by Dr. Robert C. Camans Jr., associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Frederick R. Kappel, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Under terms of the agreement, AT&T will design and build two to four satellites at its own ex-

As she spoke representatives of the Associated Milk Dealers and two striking dairy workers' locals labored to end the wage dispute which has shut off 90 per cent of the city's fresh milk supply.

Some 2 million quarts of milk are sold daily in the Chicago metropolitan area. But not one quart was available today. Stores reported heavy sales of canned and powdered milk. Sales of soft drinks and ades spurted.

Mrs. McGregor, mother of three young boys, said: "My husband and I quit drinking milk and cream. The boys need what little we have left. My husband and I are drinking iced tea."

In suburban Glenview, Paula Fassnacht commented: milk was all gone at our store, so we're using frozen malted milk." Mrs. Fassnacht said her daughter, Laurie, 4, "just loves the stuff and always preferred it

Few libel suits have been filed against newspapers in Korea in the past. Newspapers here generally have ignored libel questions because newspapers were regarded as privileged institutions.

NEGRO NAMED WASHINGTON (2) — Despite spirited Southern opposition, the Senate has approved appointment of a Negro integrationist to the Commission on Civil Rights. The Negro, Spottswood W. Robinson III, won confirmation in the Senate Thursday on a 73-17 roll call vote. Robinson is dean of the Howard University Law School here.

NO BOMBER FUNDS WASHINGTON (P) WASHINGTON (P) — None of the additional $3.5 billion dol-lars in defense funds asked by President Kennedy will be used to buy additional manned bombers, according to information receive by Rep. William H. Avery (R-Kan). Avery said that sources he did not identify said that aircraft acquired probably will be in the general category of fighters, interceptors and transports.

GOP PLANS ATTACK WASHINGTON (P) — Republicans have laid plans for an attack on the way President Kennedy proposes to finance bis long-term foreign aid program. The Republicans plan to launch their attack on the Senate floor where the program faces a close vote. They hope to turn it back, or at least to curtail it sharply.

CONTROL OF CHRYSLER DETROIT (P) - Outside directors - men who hold no management positions with the company - have taken control of the Chrysler Corp. for the first time since the late Walter Chrysler founded the auto firm in 1925. Following a meeting in New York Thursday the corporation announced the resignation of L. L. (Tex) Colbert as chairman, president, chief executive officer, chief operating officer and director.

SEEKS POPULAR SUPPORT TUNIS (P) - President Habib Bourguiba's New Constitution party intensified efforts throughout Tunisia today to keep popular support at a high pitch of nationalist fervor against disappointments in the campaign against France.

INVITES SPACEMEN WASHINGTON (P)—Cyrus Eaton has invited America's two spacemen to meet a fellow space traveler Russian Yuri Gagarin. Gagarin, now in Cuba, will be Eaton's guest four days beginning Thursday at the Cleveland millionaire's bome in Halifax, Nova Scotia. A spokesman for Eaton said that invitations were sent out July 24 to both Alan B. Shepard Jr., and Virgil I. Grissom.

Seen In Paris Next Week

WASHINGTON (P) - The Kennedy administration was reported today to be holding in reserve a wide range of military and diplomatic actions which may be taken by the United States and its European allies as the Berlin crisis develops.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will try in Paris next week to get firm agreements with allied foreign ministers on a succession of steps designed in part, at least, to give the Western powers some initiative in dealing with the Soviet Union on the Berlin problem.

Moralizers Fear To Test Their Authority

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When Martha's mother went to the hospital to have her baby brother, grandma came to look after Martha and her father.

Martha didn't like her much. If she dropped her applesauce spoon, grandma would say, "That wasn't a very nice thing to do.' Instead of saying in a clear-

cut way, "Get out of your bath now. . . wait for your sweater. . pick up your spoon," she involved all her orders with little moral opinions

She would say, "It's not very thoughtful to jump up on daddy's lap when he's trying to read his paper. . . Only untidy little girls forget to set their shoes straight under the chair. . . Good little girls do what they're told when grownups tell them to get out of the hathtuh

So Martha started to suffer corruption by the moral confusion that could well be the problem of us all. She began to equate goodness with accommodating other people and badness with inconveniencing them.

These are inaccurate moral

If George Washington had not inconvenienced George III, we might still be a British colony and if Jesus had not discomforted the Pharisees, the chances are we would have no written record of the Sermon on the Mount. Perhaps the most important statement for parents He ever made was "Judge not, that ye be not judged." The business of attaching moral labels to the actions of little children is not only perilous but cowardly. Those who go in for it are generally people who are deeply frightened of any opposition. So they do not possess the courage to risk opposition by saying, "Get out of your bath now" lest they be defied - and required to establish their authority. So what they do is to exploit moral words to get what they want. Uncertain of their own right to be listened to, they pad their wishes with words like "good" and "bad" and "untidy" and "selfish" to hijack a complance they can get no other I should feel sorry for them.

Guard Children Against Lead Poisoning Dangers

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Until I read a recent report issued by the subcommittee on Accidental Poisoning of the American Academy of Pediatrics, I thought that lead poisoning (plumbism) in children was a danger that no longer existed to any extent. With the elimination of lead from indoor paints used on cribs, toys and the like, it appeared that a serious threat to our youngsters' health had been removed.

However, the subcommittee now draws attention to chronic plumbism that results from the child chipping off and swallowing flakes of outdoor paint, now and then. the intestines and even more slowly excreted, evidences of chronic plumbism may not appear for several months. Then, if they are not recognized and if steps are not taken to prevent further ingestion of flakes of exterior paint, the child's health and life are placed in serious jeopardy. How do you recognize the principal symptoms of chronic plumbism in your child? You will note that they may easily be confused with those of poliomyelitis, particularly if they occur at the time of an epidemic. Loss of appetite. Tendency to become less alert and playful. Progressive irritability and

Battle of Newburgh -- II

A certain policeman in Newburgh, N.Y., with eight children, draws $242 in monthly pay. But there are 23 family units, with children of varying numbers, which draw more money in relief than the cop does on his job. Indeed one family pulls in more than $400 a month.

Generally, this help comes under "aid to dependent children." which means assistance to families without a male breadwinner or where, temporarily, the father is unemployed. In 1951 such aid cost Newburgh $43,000. This year its ADC bill will come to $228,000, almost a fourth of the total city welfare outlay.

What astonished investigators was that up to 20 per cent of the ADC families have illegitimate children. Not uncommonly, girls of 20 or even younger have two or three children out of wedlock. Until now each such child was the basis for additional aid.

Newburgh learned, too, that hundreds of migrant workers lured to nearby orchards and berry farms moved to the city through the long jobless season, throwing themselves on relief resources. These big migrations lie at the root of the problem of widening blight.

The new welfare rules are aimed at capping a free-flowing well, which goes on spilling over as case piles on case. Now able-bodied men on relief must take 40-hours-a-week work assignments. Unwed mothers bearing more children will lose relief. All relief clients but the aged, blind and disabled will find aid held to three months in any year. Allotments won't be allowed to exceed the take-home pay of the lowest paid city worker with family of

New York authorities say all these limitations and qualifications are violations of state and federal law, the burden of which is that "need must be served," no matter how many cases appear, no matter how heavy the load gets, no matter what the character and conduct of the recipients. They brand the new State authorities, who fear Newburgh's "irregularities" may cost New York its annual $200 million in U. S. welfare grants, hold some threatening cards. They can cut off much state and federal aid, commandeer the city's welfare department, even oust Joseph Mitchell, city manager pressing the new rules.

But Newburgh talks back like a city tired of being called a soft touch. It plans even more welfare rules changes. If nonlocal aid is cut off, it proposes to sue the state. Should that fail, it is prepared to shoulder the whole welfare burden alone.

Washington largely stands aloof, but even without it the fight looks uneven. Yet underdog Newburgh may gain broad national sympathy if its case proves soundif its welfare program truly has hurt the whole city instead of aiding its needy elements toward healthy rebuilding.

Udall Flips On Pakistani Geography

By DREW PEARSON WASHINGTON - Stewart Udall, Kennedy's dynamic and didactic Secretary of the Interior. has done it again. The gentleman with a propensity for putting his foot in his mouth was seated at Mt. Vernon beside the daughter of President Ayub of Pakistan, Begum Aurangzeb, married to the Wali of Swat, a northern state of Pakistan

Secretary Udall, wanting to make pleasant conversation and having been briefed - a little too briefly - on the geography and history of Pakistan, remarked that the Begum's husband must come from around Peshwar. Then he added

"That's Afghanistan, isn't it?" The Begum hit the ceiling.

She gave it to the Secretary of the Interior as hard as the Republicans gave it to him for permitting an oil friend to raise money for that $100-a-plate Democratic dinner. Northern Pakistan, of course, has been the subject of a bitter controversy between the Afghans and the Pakis since before the days of Rudyard Kipling. But the poor Secretary of the Interior, whose chief knowledge of that rugged country came from reading Kipling's 'Ballad of East and West." didn't know this. Especially he didn't know that a village near Peshwar is not only definitely Pakistani but is the birthplace of President Ayub. In fact, his daughter was married there. The Begum felt so strongly about this dinnertable conversation that she complained to President Kennedy about Udall. "Why," she asked, "do you have anyone in your Cabinet who is so ignorant of the geography of Pakistan?"

"That," said the President, quick as a flash, "is why he's Secretary of the Interior."

TV Education With the death of the education program in the House Rules Committee, Congress should take a careful look at another educational measure which could revolutionize education in the 50 states and help us to keep ahead of Russia's fast-growing school system. It's a plan to allocate $50,000,000 to the 50 states to promote educational TV. The plan was hatched by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington six years ago, namely to put up $1,000,000 of federal funds for the use of every state in developing what can be the most important medium in the country for education. Magnuson, a bachelor with no children to be educated, promptly put the bill through the Senate and sent it to the House of Representatives. There it was blocked by the Rules

This was in the 84th Congress. In the 85th Congress the same thing happened. Magnuson, an enthusiastic believer in modern education,

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Research Rescues the Wife. - Research - like figuresis at least as reliable as the latest computer. And it has now established (at least temporarily) that housewives who do their kitchen work standing up are being lazier than those who prefer the more leisurely looking posture known as sitting down.

We say "known as" advisedly. Because, it turns out, sitting down to do housework is anything but. It really is mostly getting up and then going back to where one had intended to sit. It's like the Red Queen's jam-more often remembered or prospective than actual.

This is something that husbands have always known. So when the executive department at Number 19487B Suburban Avenue sighs that she has been on her feet all day, the tired businessman is not overly impressed. He reflects that it would be well if she could only know how many times he has had to lean forward to push a buzzer that same day, how often he has had to readjust the tilt of his feather-backed swivel chair, and that feet on the desk just don't float up there effortlessly of their own accord.

But now he can leave the researchists' report tactfully on the refrigerator where she will see it when she opens the door to cool nerself off. And then she will realize that sitting down to do one's work is an illusory privilege. Once you are on your feet - he reflects - it is easier to stay there than to get back on them - which is why he so rarely makes the uneconomic effort.

pushed the bill through the Senate. But in the House it was blocked by the Republican-Dixiecrat coalition in the Rules Committee.

This was repeated in the 86th Congress. Today, in the 87th Congress, Senator Magnuson again is pushing the TV Education Bill, but this time hit strange opposition-Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Ribicoff. President Kennedy is a sincere booster for education, both modern and conventional, but his Cabinet member in charge of education blocked this Democratic-sponsored bill, conceived originally by Vice President Johnson.

Finally, Secretary Ribicoff got the word. Ribicoff found that he had been given the wrong steer by Republican hold-overs in his department. He reversed his stand. But the interesting question will be whether the TV Education Bill again gets stuck in the Rules Committee. Congressman James Delaney of New York, Cardinal Spellman's friend and the man who killed the entire education program, should have no reason to vote "no" on this bill. For an Educational TV program can go into any school house, whether public or Catholic. So if Delaney got behind the Magnuson bill, every state would have a little TV help in overcoming the defeat of the Kennedy education program

Coals To Newcastle

When Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota was in Berlin recently, he discovered that to conserve American dollars the State Department and Pentagon were importing American beer for U. S. commissaries and asking American personnel to buy U. S. beer in a country where beer is a specialty. "Imagine transporting beer all the way from Milwaukee to Germany in the name of fiscal responsibility!" remarked the Senator.

Humphrey, who comes from the farm belt, also looked into the frozen egg situation, found the USA was sending frozen eggs to Germany for American personnel - despite the high cost of transportation.

Despite this, West Berlin and West Germany are two of our largest feed grain customers, faced serious challenges, but I using that grain to feed chickens. "Despite this," said Humphrey, "The U. S. government is asking American personnel to buy American frozen eggs rather than buy eggs in Germany.

"All of which," noted Humphrey, "decreases the sale of feed grains from the farm belt and creates antagonism among German citizens. Just how foolish can a government

The soybean was first known in China about 2900 B.C. Missionaries introduced it to France, and Benjamin Franklin sent the seeds to America. They caught on in this country and have rapidly risen from the cinderella category and are approaching the princess stage among agricultural products.

A Monkey On the President's Back

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) - Presidential problems ride John F. Kennedy's back like a monkey gorging itself on a fresh supply of calories every day.

The World Today

Kennedy knew he would have problems, but didn't realize how quickly they would build up.

While he was still a candidate. asking for the probems, he told the National Press Club Jan. 14, 'We will need in the 60s a president - willing and able to summon his constituency to its finest hours, to alert the people to our dangers and opportunities, to demand of them the sacrifices that will be necessary. The word "sacrifices" is a per-

On that day in 1960 he also

'The time has come. . . again' for the "moral" leadership of a Wilson, Lincoln, Truman, Franklin D. Roosevelt who "led the people as well as the government (and) fought for great ideas as well as bills.

But Tuesday night after only six months in office he said:

When I ran for the presidency ... I knew that this country could not realize nor could any man realize who does not bear the burdens of this office how heavy and constant would be those burdens.

His burdens are not the same as the early presidents-theirs were mostly administrative, political and domestic-when the United States was isolated and remote from Europe. Yet Alexis de Tocqueville could see when that would change:

"It is chiefly in its foreign relations that the executive power of a nation finds occasion to exert its skill and its strength. If the existence of the union were perpetually threatened . . . the executive government would assume an increased importance in proportion to the measures expected of it and to those which it could execute."

Those days came when America was no longer isolated and the presidency, under Wilson and Roosevelt, assumed increasing importance as the existence of the Union was threatened in two world wars.

But while Kennedy's problems are similar to theirs in a very real sense they are extremely different. Now the existence of the Union, as De Tocqueville anticipated, is "perpetually threatened" by Communism. Where Wilson and Roosevelt had the burden of fighting a war, Kennedy must not only be ready for it but, through whatever skill he has, try to prevent it without losing in troubled peace either suddenly or bit by bit by attrition.

It was put another way by James MacGregor Burns, biographer of both Roosevelt and Kennedy, in making a distinction between their problems.

If you're walking through the woods and come upon a skunk with lowered head. stamping his forefeet, be careful. This is skunk ritual before spraying its famous bad odor. But don't count the ritual. Sometimes they don't bother. If you stay 10 to 15 feet from an angry skunk, you are out of his direct range—though the odor of two or three drops of potent skunk sulphide can be easily smelled half a mile away.

defendant some time later, and the date for the preliminary hear ing was set about one week ago. The defendant was released on a $1,000 bond, met by the Bradshaw Bonding Co.

On the original preliminary hearing date, the defendant failed to appear, and it was learned she had gone to Oklahoma. She was returned from Oklahoma to appear Friday.

After the hearing Friday, Judge Frank Armstrong set bond for the defendant's release at $7,500. The bond was not met and the defendant was returned to the Pettis County jail to await trial in Circuit Court.

Judge Armstrong explained that the bond, which might be considered excessive in some cases, was not excessive in this case. considering the failure of the de-

Austria Concludes Reparations Phase

VIENNA, Austria (A) - Austria concluded the first phase of its reparations to the Soviet Union Thursday.

Chancellor Alfons Gorbach received the Soviet Charge d'Affaires, G. N. Michejev, and informed him that Austria has finished its shipments of $150 million worth of manufactured goods to the Soviet Union. This was stipulated in the 1955 Austrian peace treaty.

Austria still delivers crude oil to the Soviets at the rate of 500,000 tons yearly until 1965.

And so she made "The Last Time I saw Archie." then, she's had several offers and it looks like her career will start up again. . . . Eventually, she'd like another crack at Broadway.

"I could do so much better now. Last time, I knew nothing and I was so frightened by the audience I didn't realize it. I tried to hide it. But it came out in other ways. I would be frightened of everyone I'd meet, even walking on the street."

She isn't frightened anymore.

"In England," says that fine actor, Leo Genn, "TV is having an enormously healthy effect on the stage. People are seeing plays who never saw one before. As an example, I have a farm in Sussex and there's a poultryman who works on it for me. I used to offer him seats to my plays, but he'd turn them down. He'd never seen a play and had no interest in them

"But now he has TV. He's a big fan of the plays. I don't offer him tickets to my plays any more - he asks for them now. He realizes that if it's interesting to watch on TV, it's even more so in person."
